Individual support for parents and carers whose child has experienced sexual abuse

When a child discloses sexual abuse, the parent or carer can be thrown into chaos. They can often feel isolated and struggle with feelings of shock, disbelief, shame and guilt, while having to continue to meet the needs of and support their child. From our experience of delivering the PSA service to children and young people we are aware that parents and carers also need individual support to help them through this difficult time.

The PSA Parent and Carers' service provides support to those caring for a child up to the age of 18 who has experienced sexual abuse. The service gives parents and carers the opportunity to talk about how the experience has affected them by providing a safe environment where they can share their worries and concerns. The service also provides support around the impact of abuse and trauma, and guidance on parenting a child who has experienced sexual abuse.

The PSA Parent and Carers' service is available to those who live in the Leicestershire area only. Each parent or carer will be offered four one hour sessions with one of our highly experienced social workers at home or at our Leicester office.

The service accepts referrals from professionals, and self-referrals from parents and carers.
